

What matters to Christians and Humanists?

Monday 11th January 2021

- Watch this clip: Scar Vs Simba \(1994\) HD - YouTube How is Scar a villain ?
- Can you think of 3 villains from books, films or TV series that you love? What makes them bad? What rules do they break? What effect does their behaviour have?
- Can you list 10 things that you think are naughty then and rank them 1-10 from least to most naughty.
- What makes an action naughty?
- Does being naughty ever hurt the person who is being naughty? How?
- Can thoughts be 'naughty'? Do bad deeds always start with a bad thought? Think about jealousy, hatred, greed. Are these 'states of mind' that can lead to bad actions?
- Humans often create rules/principles to help them to lead a good life. What rules or principles do you think make people happy? If you had to create one rule to make the world a happier place, what would it be?

Task:

- I would like you to make a beautifully lettered and decorated 'rule card' to hang at home.
- Humans often have a 'code for living' inside their head or heart that helps them to choose good things and say no to bad things. 'What matters most? Trusting God or always being good? Some Christians would say that trusting God is the most important thing but that trusting God helps you to be good. A humanist would say that you can always do the right thing without believing in God. We will talk about what a Humanist is more throughout this topic.
